

As a citizen of this country I am against further deregulation of media ownership. As a citizen I own the airwaves and it is the FCC's job to do what is in my and the greater population's best interest. Further deregulation would only benefit a few media corporations who are already too large and do not provide us with the type of journalism they should. If this deregulation is approved it would be a travesty for the American public, allowed by the group created to act in our best interest. I trust this will not be allowed to happen.
